

Subject: Welcome to RARL – Updates on Activities, Membership, and Upcoming Events

Dear RARL Members,

It is our great pleasure to warmly welcome you to the RARL (Research & Academic Research Lab) community. We sincerely appreciate your interest, support, and participation in developing an international academic network that connects students, researchers, and academic professionals from different regions around the world.

We kindly request all members to check and update their information and remain connected with the latest RARL activities, announcements, research opportunities, webinars, and academic initiatives.

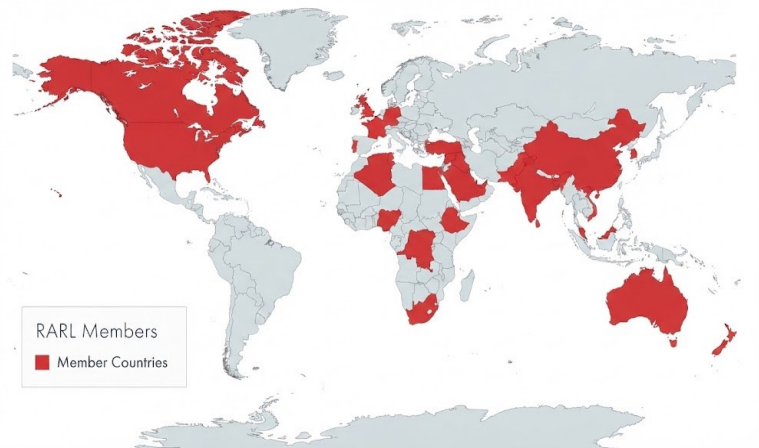

To receive the latest updates, please join and follow our official RARL platforms:

- RARL YouTube Channel: Please scan the provided QR code in this email and subscribe to our channel to access upcoming webinars, recorded lectures, and academic content.
- RARL LinkedIn Channel: Please scan the provided QR code and follow our LinkedIn page to receive the latest news, member achievements, research activities, and announcements.

Currently, due to ongoing management and organizational updates, the registration of new RARL members has been temporarily paused. At present, RARL has successfully established a global academic community with 110 active members, including students, researchers, and academic professionals from different countries.

Our members represent different regions of the world, demonstrating the international and collaborative nature of RARL:

- Asia Section, 16 countries : (Bangladesh, China, India, Iraq, Lebanon, Malaysia, Nepal, Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, South Korea, Sri Lanka, Turkey, United Arab Emirates, Vietnam)
- Europe Section, 4 countries, (France, Germany, Portugal, United Kingdom)
- Africa Section, 7 countries, (Algeria, Democratic Republic of Congo, Egypt, Ethiopia, Nigeria, South Africa, Tunisia)
- North America Section, 2 countries (Canada, United States)
- Oceania Section, 2 countries, (Australia, New Zealand)

We are pleased to announce that the first RARL Webinar will be organized in the second half of September 2026. This event will provide an excellent opportunity for members to present their research activities, exchange knowledge, discuss potential collaborations, and strengthen communication among RARL members worldwide. We encourage all members to actively follow our LinkedIn and YouTube channels to receive updated information regarding upcoming webinars, research activities, member achievements, collaboration opportunities, and future RARL initiatives.

Thank you once again for becoming a part of RARL. Your participation and contributions are highly valuable in building a strong, diverse, and international research community.

We look forward to your active involvement in future RARL activities.

With best regards,

RARL Management Team
